

Company HR Policy Manual

Sample Guide for Hiring and General HR Practices

Introduction

This document provides a high-level overview of key HR policies, with a focus on hiring practices and other essential HR matters. It is intended as a sample for internal use and should be customized to comply with local laws.

1. Hiring and Recruitment Policy

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to ensure fair, consistent, and effective recruitment processes that attract and select the best candidates while complying with equal employment opportunity laws.

1.2 Key Principles

- Equal Opportunity: All recruitment is conducted without discrimination based on race, gender, age, religion, disability, or other protected characteristics.
- Transparency: Job postings clearly outline requirements and responsibilities.
- Merit-Based Selection: Candidates are evaluated based on skills, experience, and qualifications.

1.3 Recruitment Process

1. Identify vacancy and approve job description.
2. Post job internally and externally.
3. Screen applications.
4. Conduct interviews and assessments.
5. Perform background checks.
6. Make offer and onboard new hire.

2. General HR Policies

2.1 Employment Classification

Employees are classified as full-time, part-time, or contract based on hours worked and nature of employment.

2.2 Leave and Time Off

- Annual Leave: Employees accrue paid vacation days based on tenure.
- Sick Leave: Provided for health-related absences.
- Other leaves: Parental, bereavement, etc., as per policy.

2.3 Code of Conduct

All employees must maintain professional behavior, respect colleagues, and adhere to company values. Violations may lead to disciplinary action.

2.4 Performance Management

Regular performance reviews are conducted to provide feedback and support employee development.

2.5 Termination

Termination may occur due to resignation, mutual agreement, or for cause. Exit procedures include knowledge transfer and final payments.

Disclaimer

This is a sample document for illustrative purposes only. It does not constitute legal advice. Consult with legal professionals to ensure compliance with applicable laws and regulations. Policies are subject to change.